

Parents Thank City As Cam Davis Returns

They brought Cameron Davis back to Canyon Monday.

The power of prayer and the faith of a community, believe her parents, provided the spiritual fuel for the return to a city which Mr. and Mrs. Gene Davis say have given both aplenty.

Miss Davis, a standout Canyon High School basketball player who was left critically and virtually permanently injured in a car wreck nine months ago, didn't return home in the literal sense Monday.

But, in a spiritual sense, she came to a community which has given without seeking return, which has embraced her family with understanding and generosity.

An hour before noon on July 13, Miss Davis was driving her small car toward Canyon on the Canyon expressway. A student at West Texas State University, she was to graduate within the week and become a nurse.

Apparently, Miss Davis was following a tanker truck when the truck swerved to miss another vehicle and hit the guard rail in the center of the expressway median. Miss Davis' vehicle apparently swerved and karoomed out of control through the center median and into the opposite lanes where it was hit by a semi-trailer rig.

Miss Davis was thrown through the back window of her car.

Her mother, Leavena

Davis, said a policeman who arrived at the scene later said he could find no pulse or heartbeat on Miss Davis.

She was rushed to Northwest Texas Hospital, where she has remained for almost nine months undergoing intensive neurosurgical care.

Nine months of almost nightmarish worry. But, nine months during which the care of a community has unfolded for the Davises in a way they never dreamed possible.

Leavena Davis, holding scraps of paper upon which she has scrawled hurried notes, borders on tears now as she ticks off the names of those in Canyon who have helped her and her family.

Her hands twist the notes as she sits at her kitchen table and speaks of her faith in God and the miracle she believes has been worked through the prayers of Canyon church members for Cameron. "So many people have responded to this," she says, "the blood bank and the fund for Cameron. . ."

Her voice trails and then again finds the words.

Tom Payne, she says, started a fund drive to help the Davises defray expenses involved in the lengthy hospital stay of Cameron.

Other Canyon churches began fund drives and held garage sales for the Davises.

The Blackwater Draw, a local rock band, held a benefit concert with proceeds for Cameron. The Veterans of Foreign Wars contributed. Her sister, Carolyn Glazener, and her boy friend, Dana Cockrell. The list goes on.

"I don't know how we can name them all," Mrs. Davis said. "There've been so many. I don't want to miss anyone."

Letters and cards from throughout the United States have poured into the Davis home offering sympathy, prayers and consolation.

Girls and coaches from throughout Texas, from teams which played against Cameron when she was on the Girl Eagles, have sent cards and notes, flowers and gifts.

"How humble and grateful we are," Mrs. Davis says with emotion. "We want these prayers to con-search on a theme due following the break. Students at Canyon schools are also out of classes until Tuesday.

Trustees Accept Annex Petition

County school trustees Wednesday accepted but did not approve or reject a petition from 11 residents of a South Amarillo development seeking annexation of their land by the Amarillo School District.

The land currently lies within the Canyon School District and is being developed by Glenn Odell.

After brief discussion, trustees agreed they could not act formally on the petition and advised Odell to submit the petition to boards of the Amarillo and Canyon School Districts before returning to the county board for final action.

They told Odell the petitions must be presented the two independent school district boards before the county board may act.

Canyon School Board and the county board had received a first petition from Odell seeking the annexation several months ago. The Canyon board rejected the petition because no school-age children lived in the area to be considered.

Odell withdrew his original petition presented the county board after he was advised by Dist. Atty. George Dowlen that the petition did not meet the requirements of the law.

Odell said he had not yet submitted the new petition to either the Amarillo or Canyon boards for action.

The trustees instructed Dowlen to get an attorney general's opinion concerning the meaning of the statute in question, concerning the requirements Odell must meet to have his development annexed into the Amarillo district.

One woman who signed the petition, Mrs. Dorothy A.

Knighon, told trustees she wanted her children, two boys in the 7th and 8th grades, to attend schools closer to their homes.

Canyon School Board President Tom Keeling told Mrs. Knighon the CISD had future plans to build schools as needed in her area and noted the recent purchase of a 60-acre tract south of the development for probable construction of a junior and senior high school.

The petition presented

Wednesday notes that the development in question is eight blocks from an elementary school in the AISD and about four miles from Gene Howe School in CISD.

The petition says the closest junior high school is within AISD while the children attend Canyon Junior High which is 15 miles from the development. Likewise, the closest high school is within the AISD.

Whopping Surplus Remains As City Closes Out Fiscal Year

The City of Canyon ended its 1973 fiscal year with a hefty surplus balance of unencumbered, unrestricted funds which total more in themselves than the entire 1974 budget.

Total unencumbered, unrestricted funds as of April 1 was $1,101,874, according to tentative figures produced this week by City Manager George Louder.

The city budget recently approved by commissioners for the fiscal year beginning April 1 totalled $920,000 in expenditures and about $938,000 in revenues.

"I know of no city through my contacts throughout Texas that has a financial statement that would compare to ours," Louder said.

Louder said the surplus funds totalling more than $1 million include $154,000 in federal revenue sharing funds sent the city over the past two years.

"That $1 million, even with the revenue sharing out of it, exceeds our budget this year," Louder said.

It is a portion of that $1 million the city commissioners intend to tap to help pay for construction of a new civic center complex for the city.

"It's a question that has continually been made — if we have the needs why don't we expend the reserves to do it," Louder said.

The reserve total of $1.1 million includes $712,562 accumulated through the water fund and $237,284 accrued through the general fund, Louder said. He noted that those monies accumulated over and above operating expenses and bond requirements.

In addition to the unencumbered and unrestricted $1 million, the city has about $108, 000 in funds for security on bond indebtedness payments. Total indebtedness as of April 1 was $739,000 for the city and Louder said the $108,000 is a guaranteed sum which cannot be touched even to make the bond payments.

While city commissioners plan to use a portion of the $1.1 million unencumbered, unrestricted reserves for construction of a new civic center, Louder said they also intend to leave $100,000 in unencumbered, unrestricted funds in the general fund and about $200,000 in unencumbered, unrestricted funds in the water fund.

The commission for several years has pursued a policy of paying for current expenses from current revenues, Louder said, and the funds accumulated as

Incumbents Re-elected To Boards

Three incumbents were re-elected Saturday to seats on the board of the South Randall County Hospital District.

Light balloting was a keynote of three elections held in Canyon Saturday. Two of the elections involved uncontested races.

Only 127 persons cast ballots in the contested hospital board race.

Incumbent Floyd Tomlinson received 99 votes to be re-elected. Incumbent Raymond Batenhorst received 101 votes and Incumbent Mrs. Nolon Henson received 109 votes to be re-

Regents File Money Statements

The date for filing financial disclosure statements has passed and West Texas State University still has a board of regents which is intact.

Regents, who indicated their disapproval last month with a new state law which requires that they file with the secretary of state disclosures of their financial holdings, filed the statements on time, according to Regent Don Curry of Fort Worth.

Curry, during the last regents meeting, had intimated that several regents might resign their positions due to the financial disclosure section of the state law which passed through the Texas legislature last summer as House Bill 1.

Regent Wayne Owen of Lubbock has resigned but said his resignation was due to pressing business interests.

Curry said a regent call during their last session for an attorney general's opinion on the financial disclosure was found to be unnecessary after he returned to his law offices in Fort Worth and reviewed the statute.

He said the law indicates that regents, rather than having to make a full financial statement disclosure, were required to submit an affidavit listing their interests in companies which do business with state agencies.

"I wrote all members of the board and explained my interpretation of the law and asked each member of the board to fully comply with the provisions of the act," Curry said. "I also mailed a copy of the affidavit I filed. As far as I know all complied fully."

Curry said he still holds strongly to his belief, expressed initially at the March regents meeting, that the new law is unconstitutional.

The act, he said, requires financial disclosure on the part of some officials, but does not require disclosure on the part of others.

Several parts of the act are hazy, too, Curry said, particularly sections setting out the types of business interest which must be reported.

The act calls for members to report substantial interests in business which do business with the state, but fails to define clearly how much a substantial interest is, he said. In some cases, a substantial interest would be defined as simply being an em-

Grand Jury Will Probe 'Beating' Of WT Player

Randall County grand jurors are expected to begin Monday an investigation into an incident which occurred in early March involving local sheriff's deputies, a West Texas State University policeman and a university football player.

Sheriff Cliff Longest said this week he has asked the grand jury to investigate the incident "and make a public statement" on their findings.

Longest indicated that various conflicting reports about what occurred on the night of March 8, when Mike Kotrous, a WTSU student, was arrested by deputies led to his request of the grand jury.

University policeman Lee Morgan was quoted by an Amarillo television station as saying sheriff's deputies beat Kotrous after handcuffing the youth.

Deputies, witnesses and Kotrous himself tell a different story.

Morgan declined to make a statement to The News following the incident.

The incident occurred on a Friday night after University Security Chief Jim Passons asked sheriff's deputies and patrolmen from the Department of Public Safety to help him close the university campus to visitors following a week of streaking.

An unruly mob the previous night coupled with the threat that a sniper made that he would shoot any streakers he saw spurred the campus closing, Passons told The News at the time.

Kotrous told The News he drove to the main campus entrance and refused to produce his student identification for deputies.

"One of the deputies got a little upset and he reached in and put my car in 'park,' opened the door and pulled me out," Kotrous said following the incident. "Then, he tried to put the handcuffs on me."

"Somebody said 'get the mace' and they started spraying that all over me."

"Then, another one of them started hitting me over the head with a flashlight."

Kotrous said he finally allowed deputies to put cuffs on him, but told The News "I think I'd be dead if he (Morgan) hadn't showed up. He pulled them off me."

Morgan drove to the scene just after Kotrous was cuffed.

Deputy Reedy McDonald told substantially the same story as Kotrous, but denied hitting the football player after the handcuffs were placed on his wrists.

Watkins Sees Accomplishments, Problems

Dr. Lloyd I. Watkins was at his home in Des Moines, Ia., a year ago Wednesday when he received his first contact with West Texas State University.

The man who for nearly nine months has headed the Panhandle's only institution of higher learning received a call that day from Cloyce K. Box, chairman of the WTSU board of regents, asking him to fly to Dallas for a conference with regents in their deliberation to find a new university president.

Four months later, Dr. Watkins was on the university campus assuming duties as new president to replace Dr. James P. Cornette, who was approaching retirement age.

Since Aug. 1, Watkins has been in charge of the Canyon campus and has begun a new era of regional and campus involvement for the university.

His first academic year at the helm has been an extraordinarily busy one for Watkins and his family, but one he feels has been full of challenge and accomplishment.

During his first visit to campus last May during the selection procedure for a new president, Watkins touched on what later became his top priority as president — student enrollment increases.

And, throughout his first year, that priority has remained as the internal operations of the university have been altered and the external involvement of the university in the Panhandle community has been expanded.

Major Impetus

Watkins sees externalization of the university as receiving major impetus in his administration this year. That externalization characterized by student recruitment programs, expansion of program offerings for off-campus credit and non-credit courses. That externalization has also been manifested in new impetus for raising money in the region through the efforts of new director of development Keith Winter.

While the university has been involved in a new outreach to serve all Panhandle residents, without preference to age, internal changes have also been underway, Watkins said, which should aid students, faculty and administrators alike.

It has been virtually a year-long effort for the Watkins-appointed Committee on Committees to reorganize the committee structure of the university. Committees have been revamped to include students, faculty and administrators as equal partners examining various aspects of the university.

The committees have been involved to a great extent, Watkins said, with examining the basic philosophy of the institution and reworking that philosophy.

One of the major changes which came through committee recommendation was a change in the basic educational requirements all students must meet to receive a degree from the university. Watkins said the requirements were liberalized to allow students more freedom of choice.

Another committee was busy throughout the year reworking the faculty tenure policy and promotion policy.

A committee was formed which drew input from throughout the university on student recruitment.

These major committees, Watkins said, accomplished their purposes in coming up with viable new policies.

Throughout much of the past academic year, he said, he has spent a good deal of time developing an administrative organization.

"I'm not ready to unveil it yet, but there are certain changes I'm making to get a more functional administration at the university," he said.

Dr. Lloyd I. Watkins . . . reviews first year.

Pluses at WT

All the accomplishments he feels have been made during the nine months have not been due only to his efforts, Watkins is quick to stress.

"Obviously from what I've said so far, I think we have a particular plus in our faculty, staff and student body," Watkins said. "They are great people, hard-working people. In my opinion, the state of Texas, based on the other places I've been, gets a tremendous value for the dollars spent at West Texas."

"Most people at West Texas are working too hard and they do it without begrudging it. They do it because they believe in the university."

Besides the staff, faculty and students, Watkins believes the university has other pluses, including facilities. He noted the need for a new fine arts facility.

Area support has been another area Watkins notes as a real plus for the university.

"So many people have come forth and said they want to help," Watkins said. "They care about the university."

He cited the area news media, the chambers of commerce of Canyon and Amarillo, the Amarillo Board of City Development and many others who've aided efforts to promote the university this year.

A major role was played, too, by the hundreds of persons who contributed to the President's Development Fund, established last fall by Watkins to raise regional endowments.

The university's regents, Watkins said, have been particularly

Judge Says Commissioners Haven't Forgotten Bore Holes

A year ago, Area Hydrologist Dr. Robert Winn warned Randall County commissioners a significant number of homeowners in rural parts of the county risked dangerous pollution of their groundwater due to the use of bore holes for cess pools.

Winn's warning produced a short-lived spurt of discussions by commissioners but no concrete action on their part. Concrete action was apparently not needed, according to County Judge Woody Pond, who, looking back over the past year, said complaints about bore-hole type cess pools have dwindled to fewer than one every two to three months.

Several complaints by homeowners south of Amarillo spurred commissioner interest last year and Winn drew up a proposal for defining the problem and working toward a solution.

Commissioners met several times with representatives of Amarillo-based companies involved in drilling bore holes and asked the representatives to draw up a set of self-regulations.

Pond admits the county has taken no further action, has not heard again from the drilling companies, but says the commissioners haven't forgotten about the bore hole danger. Rather, says Pond, the Texas Water Quality Board and the Texas Department of Health have become much more involved in regulating the drilling of bore holes particularly in mobile home parks, where Winn cited the most apparent danger.

Pond feels the general public is much better informed as a result of the meetings the commissioners conducted on the problem and realize the danger inherent in a bore hole.

Pond said he has had only one recent complaint concerning bore holes and he referred the complainant to the state health department.

He said the problem is one commissioners are concerned about but don't plan to become actively involved in the regulation of.

Winn warned last year that the bore holes, which are drilled to deep depths in the Panhandle soil, could cause pollution of groundwater supplies, particularly if the bore holes are drilled close to the water source for a residence.

Pond noted that many bore holes exist in the county and that there could be problems in the future. He indicated commissioners will become involved in a regulatory manner if future problems develop.

"But, we believe the people are interested in correcting these after realizing the potential problem of continuing these types of cess pools," he said.

An architects drawing of the church plant for the Central Church of Christ, presently under construction, is on display at the present meeting place of the church on Fourth Ave. The new building is to be located across from the Catholic Church in Pioneer Estates.

Easter Egg Fun For Week's End

By TROYCE MULHERIN EASTER GREETINGS:

IT'S A FIRST! A first for the Chet Smiths, that is! A very first grandbaby. Jason Edward Lyles made his appearance into our grand old world on March 20, weighing in at a hefty seven pounds, thirteen ounces. Jason's mom and dad are Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Lyles. His mom, the Smiths' Sharon, went to school in Canyon and now resides in Bethany, Okla., where Jason was born. Lewis is originally from Arkansas. Talk about luck. Mrs. Smith didn't have it when Jason's day arrived. She was ill and had to reluctantly postpone visiting her grandson until just recently. Mrs. Smith finally managed to get to Oklahoma to check this young man out and reports back that he is a "keeper." A real charmer. Congratulations to the Smiths and to the Lyles!

A SAD FACT of life: Reaching the age where the kids are too old to have Easter parties at school, and therefore don't bring home any of those delicious Easter egg candies. This happened last Friday. School closed for a long holiday, but only after the lower grades at Gene Howe enjoyed Easter egg hunts. (Broken ones count, too!) (Am personally thinking about temporarily adopting a youngun come Easter egg time again.)

BE SURE AND send the youngsters back to school Tuesday. Same time. Same place.

MARGARET INGRAM, ERNESTINE Harp and yours truly represented Gene Howe School at the monthly meeting of the Amarillo Area Council recently. Two exchange students shared their views of America and the American school system with those in attendance. The young lady from Australia expressed appreciation and surprise at the extra-curricular activities enjoyed by American students. She said that in her country there were no class rings, no graduation ceremonies, no announcements, etc. She rather liked the importance placed on graduating here in the States.

The young man from Denmark related that he found the curriculum to be "no challenge," but, he did find the American people to be friendly. Further, he felt that the diversified activities in which our students participate account greatly for their ability to be conversant in so many different areas of life and living. Our relaxed and friendly learning atmosphere appealed to the youngsters, who were both accustomed to more strenuous and serious courses of study.

DONNIE BOYD, THE Budget and Finance chairman for Area Council, related that the council-sponsored candy sale had netted $315.40 to date. The funds are to be used for the annual scholarship. This scholarship will be presented to the deserving recipient at the School of Information, which is to be held on May 7. Donnie sends thanks to all in Gene Howe Land who bought candy, therefore helping fund the program.

SPEAKING OF SCHOLARSHIPS! Libbey Read, a fifth grade teacher at Rex Reeves in Canyon, was the happy recipient of one of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers Association's scholarships recently awarded. The scholarship is for summer graduate work. Mrs. Read was joined by three other Texas teachers in receiving this good news. Congratulations, Libbey Read!

THE NORTHWEST TEXAS Hospital Auxiliary enjoyed a delicious luncheon at the Psychiatric Pavilion on April 5. The really important business of the day was the installation of officers. The following were installed during the ceremony: Mrs. Don Palmer — president; first vice president — Mrs. B. A. Sweatt; second vice president — Mrs. G. I. Pelton; secretary — Mrs. Don Cameron; historian — our Mrs. E. R. Sellers; parliamentarian — Mrs. Roy Kerr; treasurer — Mrs. Jim Line. Our Mrs. Darlene Campbell will serve as special treats chairman for the coming year. Hank Brown, Director of Program Development/ Public Affairs was guest speaker.

treated to some lovely vocal and piano music presented by Darla and Kelli Campbell, second and fifth graders who belong to Darlene. About eighty people greatly enjoyed the girls' renditions of "Country Roads," "Down by the Ohio" (solo by Kelli); "Do Lord," and something about a crowd.

SPRING FLOWERS AND Easter bunnies were popping out all over. Large floral arrangements sheltered bunnies and little bird nests holding jelly bean "eggs." The head table was home for Momma and Poppa Bunny, who took refuge in the large tulip arrangements. A windmill, with turning blades contributed to the luncheon conversation.

A HAPPY BIRTHDAY to Ellie Bost, who celebrates today, that is, the eleventh. Ellie will do her celebrating while demonstrating the fine points of Victorian Tinsel Art to members of Arts Unlimited. Basically, a picture is glazed on glass, then backed with colored foil. Ellie expects her mom down for a birthday visit, and then she will get busy with her duties as Tables Chairman for the Arts and Crafts Show to be held on April 26.

THE FIRST CLASS of the Community Education Program series will commence this coming Thursday, the 18th, from 7 to 10 p.m. This one is the oil-acrylic painting class. Fun. Fun. Fun. Show up that evening and register. This will be an elementary class in basic techniques of either acrylic or oil painting. Note the "basic" part of that statement. No prior art training is necessary for successful completion (or total enjoyment) of the course. A list of needed supplies will be given at the first session, to which you will need to bring a drawing pencil and a sketch pad (New, used, or borrowed).

THIS CLASS IS for those of us who have said, "I would like to paint, but I can't draw. 2. I have no talent. 3. I never could 4. Etc. Etc. Etc." Break down and give it the gung ho try! You may be surprised. You will be amazed.

THAT'S THIS COMING Thursday, April 18, 7 p.m., Gene Howe school. Mrs. Charlotte Brantley is the instructor for the eight weeks class. The fee is $12 per person with open enrollment for adults and youth (minimum age of 16). Gee whizzers! This is going to be fun!

THE INTERIOR DESIGN course is slated to begin May 2, Thursday, from 7 to 9 p.m. This course presents a practical emphasis on present day interior design. Mrs. James Palmer is our instructor for this four week class. The fee is $4.00 per person, with open enrollment. Have to be over sixteen, though.

DO TRY TO participate in either of these courses. A whole new world is out there. Why not enjoy each and every opportunity to grow and expand! Let's support this endeavor sponsored by the Canyon Independent School District.

RAYDELL PALMER, HOSPITALITY Chairman for Gene Howe PTA for the coming year has announced the members of her committee. Those hospitable ladies are Jackie Jobe, Linda Ford, Barbara Melton, Linda Hawkins, Melba Thompson, and Phyllis Hicks. Linda Ford has been serving on this committee this year and will be sharing her expertise with the other members. Since her recent retirement from the business world, and from The Matchbox in particular, Phyllis Hicks has been helping with several PTA projects, and is a welcome newcomer to this particular committee. What would we do without fine ladies like these to help!

A VERY HAPPY BIRTHDAY to Shari, daughter of Ada and Pete Solbrig, who celebrated on the 9th.

HAVE A HAPPY Easter hunt.

THANKS FOR THE use of the hall. And, for the calls! Troyce 352-6053

Members of 24 teams which competed Saturday for top honors in two judging contests for Area I FFA judge the soil at a nearby ranch. The Soil Conservation Service here and the Palo Duro Soil and Water Conservation District aided West Texas State University's school of agriculture in the judging contests.

Youths Win Judging Honors

A student from Slaton and one from Spur took home top individual honors last weekend from the Area I FFA judging contest conducted by the agriculture school at West Texas State University.

Mike Davis of Slaton was high-point individual in the land judging contest with 209 points out of a possible 280. High-point individual in the range and pasture judging contest was Jerry Pevehouse of Spur with 231 points out of a possible 360.

The Palo Duro Soil and Water Conservation District awarded trophies to the top winners.

Sites for the judging were prepared by Don Dille, Bill Casteel and Gary LaBorde of the Canyon field office, USDA Soil Conservation Service.

Nineteen teams participated in the land judging contest and five teams competed in the range and pasture judging.

Several Take

Bahama Tour

A recent tour of the Bahama Islands was the highlight for an 18 day tour group from this area which included among its travelers, Mary B. Weeks and Flossie Johnston, both of Canyon.

The tour-group included three chartered buses with about 40 area people traveling on the bus with Mrs. Weeks and Mrs. Johnston. Among the travelers were two couples from Happy, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Johnston and Mr. and Mrs. Merle White.

Leaving Amarillo, the group viewed Azalia trails throughout Louisiana, Mississippi and Florida. Enroute to Miami, Fla., they saw a pageant in Natchez, Miss., Disneyworld, the glass-bottomed boats at Silver Springs, Fla. and the Cypress Gardens.

At Miami the group boarded the Bahamian liner for a 4-day sojourn to Bahama. The liner was named the "Emerald Seas" and served the group as an ocean hotel.

Man Charged With Beer Sale Intent

A Tulia man was arrested early Tuesday afternoon by Alcoholic Beverage Commission officers north of Canyon and charged with possession of alcoholic beverages for sale in a dry area.

The arrest marked the first time in at least five years such a charge has been filed in the county.

Ford Lynn Jennings was arrested as he drove his car south on the Canyon Expressway. He was arrested just south of the McCormick Road intersection with the highway.

Officers said they found 48 half-pints and 48 quarts of beer on the front seat of the Tulia's car.

Officers said Jennings told them he was driving to Tulia.

Pen-Ink Notes Offered By AAUW

Pen and ink drawing of three different western scenes by Margaret Fletcher of 2808 Seventh Avenue are being offered to interested persons through the Canyon Branch of the American Association of University Women.

The AAUW members will sell the stationery packets of 10 notes for $1.50 and are available by contacting Mrs. Frank Blackburn, Mrs. Darrell Munsell or Mrs. Gary Fletcher.

The note sale was a topic of discussion for the AAUW group at a breakfast session held Saturday at the Episcopal Center on campus.

Mrs. John Rider, president, was in charge of a brief business session as the membership present elected Mrs. John T. Reeves to serve as first vice president and Miss Mattie Sue Howell as secretary.

Co-hostesses for the meeting were Mesdames David LaBrie, Fred Stoker, W. L. Smith, Miguel Tarrab and Rose Kinzer.

How early can you get a herbicide on sorghum?

You can get Milogard® herbicide on about as early as you can put a tractor in the field. Preplant Milogard with or without your liquid fertilizer or put it on any time thereafter until just before the sorghum and weeds come up . . . which means the weeds die early, before they start taking soil moisture and nutrients that should go to the growing sorghum. We recommend it. The earlier the better — as early as two to four weeks before planting. Or later. Milogard kills weeds any time in the preemergence period. Fit it to your schedule. But call in your order now.

County Commissioners Deal With Revaluation Of Property

Randall County commissioners again dealt tentatively with what has emerged as a probable revaluation of all property in the county during their regular Monday session here.

supportive in his efforts and have established a good working relationship.

More Adjustments
On a more personal level, Watkins said there are still some adjustments he and his family must make to Texas and to the university life.

"One thing I've learned in this first year is that I can't do everything everybody asks me to do," he said. "You do what you can and spread yourself pretty thin."

Watkins said he's learned that the volume of business created for his office is tremendous and the demand on his time is equally tremendous.

Without the aid of his administrative staff, Watkins said the things accomplished this year would not have been accomplished.

Watkins said the demands on his family have increased in his new job, but said he's enjoyed going places and meeting new people.

While Watkins' first year has produced its accomplishments, he still feels there are some annoyances or frustrations with the job.

"One of the frustrating things now — and I'm not complaining — is to have so many good things we could do and be so tightly budgeted we have to say 'no,'" he said.

In an effort to open up some avenues for innovation, Watkins has allocated $5000 from the President's Development Fund for use by faculty members in experimental research projects.

Another frustration for Watkins has been the tendency of some faculty and staff members to bypass the administrator who is responsible for an area to come directly to him with a problem.

"It's not a problem for me personally," he said, "but it can be for the person involved."

Major Concerns
Areas of major concern for Watkins during the year have focused more on internal affairs of the university.

"I think the main problem of any new university president is to find out who on your staff can adjust to your style of leadership," he said. "Who is flexible enough to want to do the things the way you feel they must be done."

"My style of leadership I'd call 'participatory.' For some this has been different. During the first year, I've spent a good deal of time finding out who are the people I can depend on to do the kind of things I feel must be done."

Watkins said he feels his style of leadership is and has been demanding.

"I think I demand a lot from people not in the sense of a line Army chart thing but rather in the involvement of all their concentration in the work of the institution," he said.

Watkins is also trying to become acclimated to the myriad of state agencies and boards which have some relationship to the university.

"In Iowa, we didn't have anything like the coordinating board, the agencies are different, their requirements differ and I'm trying to figure out what people want," he said.

The Future
The past year, Watkins feels, has set a solid groundwork for the future of the institution.

"One thing you can be sure of is that we'll keep on working on enrollment," he said. "The financial support of the university is tied directly to the number of credit hours we generate."

Watkins admits he doesn't know what the future holds in terms of student numbers. He notes that trends indicate Panhandle high schools are losing enrollment.

But, he again reiterated his belief that the college has embarked on a road to reach out to all ages in the area, to offer the services of the university to anyone who wants to pursue higher education.

"We're going to be aggressive and where we see a chance to help people we're going to do it," he promised.

Commissioners agreed they should begin to lay plans on how such a revaluation would be accomplished, but did not set a specific date to begin plans.

Virtually assenting either by their silence or their comments, commissioners went along with a suggestion by Commissioner Bill Butler that all property be revaluated in the county.

Butler suggested the commissioners establish a plan to accomplish the revaluation and provide for the contingency that tinue because they've helped.

"She hears, sees, feels and smells but she can't respond to us yet."

"We have God and faith on our side. If He's allowed Cameron to live it's for a reason. It's not just to lie there. We know it's going to take time, but we know it will BE."

The nurses at the hospital, Mrs. Davis says, call Cameron's recovery a miracle.

A pessimistic physician declines to describe her improvement over nine months in superlatives. But, he knows she's better.

Mrs. Davis cites Cameron's continual improvement, after spending 5½ months in the intensive care unit, suffering first a bout with pneumonia and then a blood clot in the leg.

"Now she's levelled off," Mrs. Davis says. "We know she's going to be alright."

"God has hold of her hand. He's listening and He's going to bring her all the way."

The Davises are elated they've been able to take Cameron from the hospital.

But, they've had to overcome the fear, the stress of placing her in a nursing home.

That, they've overcome. After nine months of agonizing worry and fear, the Davises almost consider the return of Cameron to Canyon as a giant step on her road to recovery.

And, they consider the support of the community to which she returns as a major factor in her progress.

Surplus. . .

unencumbered, unrestricted monies have not been tapped.

The $1.1 million accumulated, he said, since about 1956 and has steadily grown.

"I can think of no year since I've been here the reserve has failed to increase," Louder said.

The bulk of the reserve funds came through city operations in the 1960s.

"The majority of the reserve, in my opinion, is the result of the business-like approach they (commissioners) took in operations of the water and sewer fund in 1961 when they updated their ordinance on water and sewer and basically adopted a policy that put the city in the position of providing this service in a business-like manner," Louder said.

In actuality, the city manager said, commissioners at that time made the city water and sewer departments operate under an enterprise or business environment.

"The water and sewer fund has been operated as a business which should have a retired earnings balance," he said.

Louder said commissioners are proceeding with caution in the expenditure of the funds — by leaving $300,000 in the general and water funds — because they realize that even though the reserve experience for more than a decade has been good, the situation can also sour.

"As surely as you can have good experience, you can have bad experience," Louder said. "We know eventually we may have experiences where we won't accumulate reserves and we may have to utilize that reserve and that is the reason we're retaining the reserve."

the revised Texas constitution, now under consideration in Austin, may affect tax values throughout the state.

He said the county should delay on its planned revaluation until the voters have had a chance to either approve or disapprove the new state constitution.

Mrs. Audrey Bruse, tax assessor-collector, told Butler her office is not staffed to handle a revaluation of the entire county.

Butler stressed the move to a revaluation will not be an immediate thing and suggested commissioners meet on the proposition several times in the near future to formulate a plan for accomplishing the task.

In other business Monday, commissioners finally approved a plan presented by Horace Dwight of McCormick Estates in the north part of the county.

Commissioners approved the plan contingent on the placement of a statement on the plat plovee of a company which does some business with the state.

"I'm delighted there were no problems with our board," Curry said. "As I set forth in my letter, this is just another requirement for serving the state. I hope it doesn't cause anyone to consider resigning."

Curry said he will personally inform the board member appointed by Gov. Dolph Briscoe to replace Owen on the board of the requirements of the law.

Petition. . .

"It is unreasonable to force our children to attend schools in Canyon, Texas, when there are schools located within our own neighborhood in Amarillo, Texas," the petition says. "We, the undersigned, do not desire to have our children riding school buses on the busy highways and exposing them to the danger of an accident, one of which has already occurred involving a school bus carrying children."

The petition also says the parents "are entitled to have the school board do what is in the best interest of our children and not what will be the best financial gain of the school district."

that the county will accept the roads in the development only as dirt roads. The approval is also contingent on approval by Consulting Engineer Bill McMorris of elevation and drainage plans.

Dwight has been before commissioners many times since last fall concerning construction of roads in his development and commissioners consistently hesitate to accept his plat because two roads were not built to county specifications.

Commissioners passed a resolution commending State

Sen. Max Sherman who will serve as Governor For A Day on April 27. Sherman, the resolution says, has chosen to remain in the Texas Panhandle during that day.

They also approved hiring of a new assistant district attorney.

Challenger E. T. Cummings received 51 votes and was defeated in his bid for a place on the board.

An extremely light voter turnout marked the balloting in the Gene Howe School area for the county school trustee posts.

Incumbent Joe Turpin was re-elected from his precinct with only two votes. Incumbent J. D. Barker, an at-large member of the trustees, received 2 votes also. A total of two votes were cast at Gene Howe.

In the Canyon area precincts, Barker received 115 votes and R. B. Gist Jr. received 121 votes. A total of 130 votes were cast in the election, which saw no challengers.

About 150 persons voted at Gene Howe and in Canyon in the uncontested Canyon School board elections Saturday. Incumbent Tom Keeling, board president, received 163 votes. Roscoe Richardson received 165 votes and Ed Wieck received 166 votes.

Museum Begins To Occupy Old Library Building

By JIM ROGERS

Hoping to be able to move in by May 1, the Panhandle-Plains Museum has begun to move displays across the yard from the old library building. According to C. J. McClure, the regents of the Texas State University have the old library building to the museum following the occupancy of the new Cornette Library building.

McClure said that they hoped to build a 40 foot wide underground passage from the museum building to the old library. In this passage, they hope to display a 1915 steam engine used to power a thrashing machine and the thrashing machine. It is also hoped that a fire engine owned by the museum could be displayed.

The building is badly needed for the antique cars and wagons that the museum has ready or in preparation to go on display. Presently most of the carriages from the Thomas Babb collection have been placed on the second floor of the old library building.

There will be some necessary renovation work done on the old library building. The museum will use as much of the building as possible but will be limited on what they can show because of space.

Presently, the museum has $90,000 on hand to be used in the renovation. It will take an estimated $250,000 to complete the project.

Panhandle-Plains Museum, according to McClure, has the largest museum collection in the Mid-West. All objects on display have been donated to the museum. There is no provision in the budget of the museum for the purchase of objects to be displayed. The only money allocated for restoration is for salaries of those employed to restore the objects.

Visitors from all 50 states and many foreign countries come to visit the museum during the days it is open. On an average day during vacation time, 15 to 20 states a day are represented.

Had a party? Or giving one? Tell The Canyon News about it. Telephone 655-7121, or stop by the News office on the south side of the square.

Life At Siesta

By EARLINE BENHAM

The Ladies Auxiliary has several things planned for this month, one of which is an Easter Egg Hunt, Thursday at 3 p.m. They also have a Bingo game planned for April 26th at 8 p.m.

As mentioned in last Thursday's paper, "Parents Night Out" is still scheduled for April 20th, beginning at 7 p.m. The big garage sale will be May 4th and 5th, beginning each day at noon and going until we run out of people. We'd like to invite Canyon and Amarillo to attend.

The Volunteer Fire Department has shown good results. The April 8 meeting discussed the fire truck that is being considered for Siesta. It is a 1930 Sea-graves model, with only three hours pumping time. It is in excellent condition and has an antique value of about $1600. Members of the fire department will speak with the owners April 9th. We should have the results by next week's meeting. The fire department has informed us that first aid courses will be offered for interested residents in the near future.

Recreation Hall: For private use, $10 per night. Available week days until 10 p.m., Friday and Saturdays until 12 midnight. Money will be donated to the fire department.

"Months Free Rent" — The manager has offered a months free rent to any new tenants, also to you if anyone joins our community on your advice. Two tenants? Two months free rent!

MOBILE HOME HINTS
Here's a nifty idea. Screw cup hooks into the end of your broom, mop, etc., also into the side of your broom closet. Now everything can be hung instead of "propped."

Liquid car wax, preferably Turtle Wax, shines your cabinet tops and fiber sinks beautifully. Also some table tops and appliances.

A neat bulletin board can be made by gluing two or three pieces of cardboard together, then covering with your favorite colored cloth. The cloth can be changed as desired.

FACTS AND FUN
Easter Story

It is interesting to find that one of Christianity's most inspirational holy days was a Pagan festival, named after the goddess of spring, Eostre. According to legend, Eostre had a pet bird which, to delight children throughout the world, she magically changed into a rabbit. Still a bird at heart so goes the tale, the rabbit traveled about laying colored eggs in various nests. Early people regarded the egg as a symbol of creation. Thus, it is appropriate that the great Christian festival of joy be celebrated on this day, too.

The meaning of the pyramid and the eye above it, on the back of a dollar bill? The pyramid symbolizes the strength of the union of the states which make up our land. The top of the pyramid is unfinished, meaning there is still work to be done to make our system ever better. The eye stands for the all-seeing God, supreme Builder of the universe.

FIRST AID TIPS

Prevention of swallowed objects (for small children):
1. Keep articles that may be accidentally swallowed or aspirated out of the reach of infants and small children.
2. Caution older children not to put small objects in a baby's reach or in his mouth.
3. Do not hold open safety pins in the mouth when changing a diaper. A pin may slip out of the mother's mouth into the mouth of the infant. Take care not to leave safety pins within reach of the infant.
4. Provide sturdy, safe toys without small parts that may become detached.

5. Do not give small children nuts or small candy that contains nuts, raw carrots or other uncooked vegetables, fruits that require chewing, unchopped meats, or any food containing seeds or pits until the age of 4.
6. Do not allow a child to play with beans, peas, hard kernels of corn, or large seeds.
7. Do not stimulate a child to laugh or cry when he has food in his mouth.
8. Do not permit a child to run about with food in his mouth.
9. Remove bones and shells from all food given to a child.
10. As soon as he is old enough to learn, teach a child not to put foreign objects in his mouth.

We'd like to wish everyone a very nice Easter, safe trips to loved ones, and would like to share this thought with you.

Dear God, please help us all down here below.
We've so many sins, and we know,
That your son suffered, so we're forgiven
If only we ask for deliverance to Heaven.

There are so many delightful temptations.
Satan throws them, by hundreds, in rations.
Give us the strength and wisdom we need.
Dear God, forgive us for failing we plead.

Help those who suffer more day by day,
Those sick, and afflicted in ways,
May the healthy help in your work.
They have responsibilities, they shouldn't shirk.

Help us recognize you to others here on earth,
Till the day we die, from the time of birth.
Give us the wisdom to live day by day,
Dear God, hear us, please, we pray.

Railroads To Be Subject Of "TEXAS" Art Contests

The railroads of the Panhandle will be saluted during the gala opening of the musical-drama "TEXAS" in mid-June and an art competition for the best original pictures of the railroad industry will be conducted in conjunction with the opening.

The producers of "TEXAS," which begins its summer run on June 19, will join the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum in Canyon to sponsor the art competition.

All facets of the railroad industry — stations, trains, tracks, crossties, etc. — are eligible for the competition.

Three classes of entries will be accepted — painting, drawing and photographs.

The painting class will include oils, acrylics, gouaches, tempera, water color and mixed media.

The drawing class will include pastels, pencil sketches, pen and ink, felt tips and graphics. Both color and black and white photographs will be accepted in the photo class.

Preliminary judging of the photographs of the originals must be in the "TEXAS" office, 2010 4th Ave., by June 5. They may be mailed to Railroads, Box 268, Canyon, Tex. 79015.

Notification of the judges' results will be sent to finalists by mail on June 11.

The final judging will be at the museum at 4 p.m. June 19.

Winning pictures will be taken to the "TEXAS" amphitheatre where they will be displayed.

No entry fee will be required in the contest.

The 10 winning artists in each class will be guests at opening night of the drama and plaques will be awarded from the state for the best-of-show and for first place in each class.

The 30 winning entries will be on display at the museum from June 23 to July 28.

More information may be obtained by writing the "TEXAS" office.

Egg Hunt Set Sunday By Vets

The annual VFW Easter Egg Hunt will be conducted at 2 p.m. Sunday at Conner Park here.

More than 1000 eggs will be hidden by VFW Post 5681 members for Canyon children to find.

Three age groups will hunt eggs together. One group will be infants to five-year-olds. Another will be those 6 through 10. And the other will be those 11 through 15.

Post Commander LeRoy Hutton said three prizes will be awarded in each age group and a prize will be given the child who finds the most eggs.

In case of inclement weather, the hunt will be postponed until the following Sunday.

Men's Breakfast Good Eating For Local Folks

By MILDRED TURNER
REPORTS FROM THE
Men's Breakfast at the Palisades Church was a good time of fellowship and feasting. Bro. Seright made the pancakes with Greg Moore helping him, I think, in the cooking and serving. Jairrel Moore cooked the bacon and Gary Strecker did the eggs. There were around 22 in attendance, I heard.

GARLAND WAS TALKING to Ernest Carlile at the breakfast and found out Ernest had been in the hospital for an emergency treatment of severe nose bleed. So he is to take it easy for awhile. Ernest takes his walks around this canyon nearly every day.

A NUMBER OF the neighborhood young people gathered at the Moore's for a basketball game Saturday evening. It sounded as if they were having a great game. They later visited over on the Strecker's large porch where was a lot of buzzing and laughing going on as they enjoyed the lovely evening.

I GOT ME some iron out at Sear's this last week to feed and water fruit trees. Also hauled a load of fertilizer for the garden, hoping to plant pretty soon.

RECEIVED LETTERS FROM Sara and Belva this last week. Sara said John has started clearing their land. They live in a rambling old house with barn and a block of yard, two whole blocks from downtown Tenaha, population 1094. This is a fun change for them.

BELVA SAYS THEY are scrounging up furniture because the few furnished apartments in Houston are very high and there is a furniture rental racket that is ridiculous! They are coming home this weekend for a brief visit.

THE CLAY LINDSEYS of Hereford and the Gene Webbs just returned from a trip to Arkansas where they visited an aunt of mine at Ryan, Okla., my sister I.B. and Mae Dodson of Springdale, Ark. and adventured around the Ft. Smith area sightseeing.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO

Gene Webb on April 3rd.

THE PALISADES BOARD met at the Jack Inmans on Monday night, April 1. Those present were Inman, Boothe, Fleming, Scott, Jerri Thompson, Dora Waldrop and guests, the Wayne Kelsos, and I. April 27 is the earliest date they could get the bridge cut down. It was decided the area would have to be blocked off from traffic a few days during this time to get the rails, etc., set. There is quite a lot of preparation to be done so many men and boys

WMS Study Group To Meet Tuesday

"Jesus Announces His Ministry" will be the subject of study for the Women's Missionary Society Bible Study group of the Calvary Baptist Church on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

The WMS will meet in the home of Mrs. D. C. Lindley with Delta Bennett giving the study. All church ladies are urged to attend.

are needed for this work. Call a board member and offer to help. Drive by the park also, and see what is being done and call Paul Fleming or Jack Inman to see if you can help.

THE PALISADES PARK is the place where we will hold our Country Fair on April 20. If it should be raining, we will use Dora's barn. Inman's garage has been donated for the storage of all the things donated for sale at the fair. Our neighbors and the public is invited. Dress in old fashioned styles (or come as you are.) There will be boots and bonnets, live entertainment, food and lots of items for sale. There will be music and dancing and a lot of country fun so mark April 20. Come at 10 a.m. and stay until ...

STOPPED ONE PLEASANT evening this week and sat in the porch swing with Myrtle Foster where we just sat and visited as we swang (is that a word?).

HERE'S MY LATEST written Sunday afternoon:

Praise

As the sun is rising in radiant hue ...

When out walking in the morning dew,

When I see a rainbow in the sky,

When I hear the song birds nearby;

I will praise Him.

Whether I have money or no dollar to spend ...

Whether I have many or am forsaken by each friend,

In times of sorrow or in times of pain;

As long as there is breath

His praises I will proclaim.

When the storm is black and the waves get high,

And there's not a ray of light in the sky,

When hail and the winds of adversity blow

In the face of every foe ...

I will praise Him.

Whether carrying a burden or going down hill,

Or while walking by the water still ...

When on the mountain or the valley below;

I want the whole world to know

I will praise Him.

THE COUNTRY FAIR is in the air. Find out what your neighbors are donating. Ladies, let's all do our baking on Friday so we can be ready to set up early Saturday. There will be a day of cleaning and preparation at the park this Saturday.

NEXT TUESDAY WE would like all the groups of singers, dancers, musicians to get off the bus at my house for a time of rehearsing and organization. Let us know if you can be the Master of Ceremonies and what hours you would prefer. Jack Inman's garage is for storing the donated wares.

WE WISH TO thank all who have already started the great work at the park. I know the Inmans have worked hard, don't really know who all has helped.

PEARL VAUGHN, JANET and I were over at the park Monday evening, noticed the tables, trimming, etc., looking good.

WE ALL WISH to thank Cathy Fleming for a beautiful job on the poster work at the Y, the gate and at Jack's. (Those are the ones I've seen.)

GUESTS AT THE Phil Boothe home this week are Elnora's parents, Mr. and Mrs. White, of Lamesa. Monday was a special day at the Boothe's because it was Dwight's birthday. As we were returning from the park Monday evening, we saw cars and people all in front of the Boothes'.

IT HAPPENED THAT Robert was playing like he was driving, had the panel truck in neutral, rolled down hill, jumped a ditch (backwards) into some bushes on our land. I don't think there was any real damage except to his nerves. Robert was very pale as he explained it to me. He is only about 7 1/4 years old.

AT THE PLAY Day Riding races at Rolling Hills, Dora Waldrop came in with five first places, a third and a fifth.

THE DAY was windy, awful, but the riders had fun anyway. There will be another Play Day the first Sunday in May, you are invited, free, come and go or come and stay, starting about 1 p.m. at the same place.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT SERVICE was just beautiful at the Palisades Church. Pearl said she could have stayed all night, there was so much pretty singing going on.

THERE WILL BE a Sunrise service this Sunday in the Palisades Park at 7:30. There will be special singing, as well as group songs.

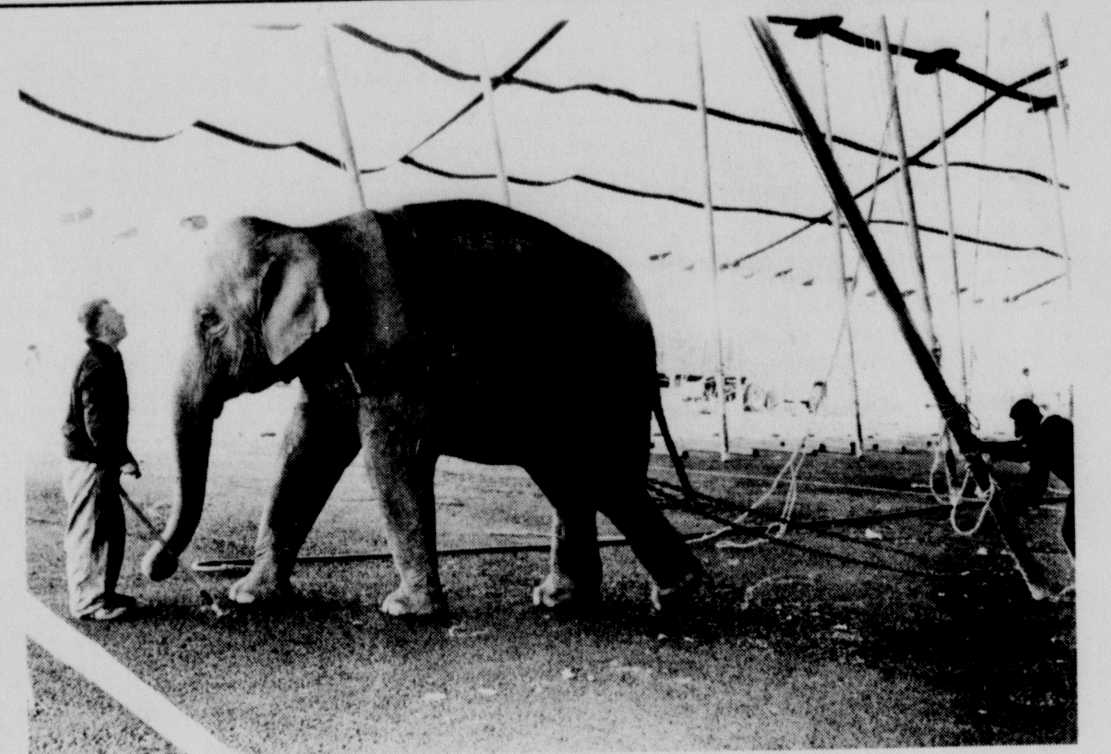

I ASSUME BRO. Seright will bring the special Easter message. It was beautiful last Easter and Doug Hooker (one of our kids) brought a wonderful message. See you there.

"Mary," he said
And I know how tenderly
He spoke her name
And how her grief
Turned to joy
As she answered
"Master."
I know because
He spoke my name, too.

Dorothy Purdy

COUNTRY FAIR is in the air, neighbors, friends, I'll see you there.

This scene is only a month away for Canyon residents as the date for the King Brothers Circus here approaches. The Canyon Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the circus here on May 15. Two performances will be given at 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. that day on the east parking lot of the Kimbrough Memorial Stadium. Tickets may be obtained from chamber directors or the chamber office.

WT Track-Tennis Teams Travel

While West Texas State is on its spring break, the Buffalo track and tennis team took the opportunity to travel this week.

The track team travels to Austin for the Texas Relays Friday and Saturday.

Coach David Kent's tennis squad played at Rice in Houston Monday, faced Texas A&M Wednesday afternoon and play Thursday through Saturday in the Oklahoma City University tournament.

The Buffalo tennis squad fell 6-3 to Rice Monday. Freshmen Steve Johnson of Reno, Nev., Brett Hall of Houston and Jay Goss of San Angelo captured singles victories.

The West Texas track squad placed second Saturday at Lubbock in a four-way meet at Texas Tech. The Buffaloes were behind the strong Baylor Bears, but finished in front of host Texas Tech and New Mexico State.

Baylor totaled 88 1/2 points. West Texas had 49, while Texas Tech scored 31 1/2 and New Mexico State 16.

Junior Mike Walker of Seminole vaulted 16-0 for a new school record as the Buffaloes captured five first places.

Dennis Briggs, senior from Seminole, won all three throwing events. He took firsts in the shot, discus and javelin events. Paducah freshman Alvis Wright ran 9.5 for a first in the 100-yard dash.

Buffalo track coach plans to take 11 athletes with him to Austin. In addition to Walker, Odessa freshman vaulter Tommy Humphries will make the trip. He has a 15-6 effort to his credit. Sophomore Marvin Self will join Briggs in the throwing events at Austin.

Odessa freshman Terry Penn will run the 120-yard high hurdles at Austin. He has a 14.2 clocking this spring. Wright, who has a wind-aided 9.3 this spring, will run the 100-yard dash. George Fuller, Wayne Cure and Rick McGuire will join Wright to run the 440-yard relay. McGuire, Wright, Larry Marlar and Dave Karila will run the sprint medley relay.

Atkinson Speaks For City Church

Strauss Atkinson of Plainview, former pastor of the First Baptist Church of Canyon, returned to the city Sunday morning to conduct the worship services for Calvary Baptist Church here.

Atkinson is presently serving as area missionary of the Caprock Plains Area.

Rev. Derrel Lewis, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, conducted the evening worship here after concluding revival services at the First Baptist Church in Ropesville Sunday morning.

Duane Guy Speaks To Women's Chamber

Duane Guy was the guest speaker for the women's division of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce at the group's general meeting held recently at the First National Bank room.

He discussed plans for the bicentennial celebration and explained state, national and local bicentennial committees that have been formed. He was introduced to the group by Mary Alice Hines.

Evelyn Trice, president of the women's chamber, conducted a business session with 40 members of the group participating as discussion was held relating to the new blazer jackets under consideration by the group. Committee appointments were also announced at the meeting and several new members were introduced.

Col. John Childs, president of the chamber, also spoke on upcoming plans of the chamber and urged the women's division to encourage participation in the circus being planned for the Buffalo Bowl parking lot as well as the city promotional sale to be held in conjunction with the Canyon Days celebration slated in late June.

Mike Hayes, left, and Johnny Johnson, right, look on as Dr. J. Manly Bryan, mayor of Canyon, signs a proclamation making April 14-20 Special Services Week. A Special Olympics for special services students from the 26 county Panhandle region will highlight the week. The Special Olympics will be at the Activities Center on the WTSU campus April 16.

Best Showing For Tennis Team

According to V.J. Duncan, Canyon High School tennis coach, Canyon High School tennis teams made their best showing in the past three years at district level competition last week, though no Canyon player walked away with a district title.

David Fite lost in the boys singles final and Dennis Collier and Roy Beghtel lost in the boys doubles semi-finals.

Fite who defeated Dumas' number one player in the first game lost to the number two player from Dumas in the finals. The Canyon doubles team lost to the Dumas team.

This is the first year that Canyon has offered any contest to 4-A schools according to Duncan. Fite, Collier and Beghtel won the Perryton Invitational Tourney by beating Palo Duro four weeks ago. At the Amarillo relays, Fite beat Caprock and Hereford.

Debbie McBroom lost in the quarter finals of girls singles competition at the Borger Tournament. Also at Borger, Gene Tenorio and David Woolsey won C-division doubles.

While at the district meet, Tod Kent, eighth grader and Mark Sullivan, ninth grader, played against each other in the boys singles finals for Division II. Also in Division II, Alexis Hefley, ninth grader, won the girls singles. Randy Breitling and Marty Wydick won the Division II boys doubles.

According to Duncan, there are some outstanding junior high students coming up. The program is growing and drawing interest, not only among the students but also in the community, stated Duncan.

There are presently 135 students at the high school playing tennis in either P.E. classes or in the tennis program. Presently, there are two P.E. classes just for tennis.

One problem seems to hamper the tennis program here, no courts for students to play or practice on. The only courts that are available to the students are at the college. The team works out at the college courts from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. "if no college students are on the court or are waiting to play," Duncan said "Coach Kent and the college have been wonderful in helping us."

According to Duncan, there were days when they could use only one court. Some members of the team go to private courts to practice. "The senior kids would have done better if they had had their own courts to practice on," stated Duncan.

Duncan said that the administration and school board were working to get the courts for the high school. He said that they should be built in the near future.

Duncan will lose five seniors including Fite, his number one boys singles player, and doubles players, Collier and Beghtel. Also his top girl players, McBroom and Patty Lovelady, will be leaving.

Duncan feels that if the junior high school had courts now, in the next few years Canyon could have a strong tennis team.

WTSU Scrimmage Before Break

West Texas State University's football squad went through a two-hour scrimmage session Saturday morning in Frank Kimbrough Stadium before breaking until Tuesday, April 16.

The Buffaloes tallied four times during the scrimmage on offense as Hereford senior Mike Wartes directed each of the scoring drives.

Wartes tallied once himself on a quarterback option play. Eddie Richardson had one touchdown and Garvin McCarrell tallied a pair of six-pointers.

The Buffalo defense responded with some standout play. Safeties Mike Lozano and Robert Edwards intercepted a pair of passes each. Lozano returned one of his thefts 46 yards for a touchdown.

Safety Arcadio Rivera picked off a fumble in the air and raced 45 yards for another defensive score.

The offensive unit was hindered because of several key injuries. Starting tackles Jeff Lloyd and John Jacobi didn't see action in the contest because of injuries. Lloyd has an injured toe and Jacobi an injured knee.

Running backs Rick Rice and Jimmy Lisle were also held out of competition. Rice has an injured ankle and Lisle is recovering from a pulled muscle.

Mike Fishbeck, a linebacker on last fall's freshman team, suffered Saturday's only injury, but it was a serious one. He broke an ankle and will miss the remainder of the spring drills.

WTSU To Host 'Family' Seminar

West Texas State University will be co-sponsor later this month of a "Communications in Families" workshop to be held in Amarillo.

Other co-sponsor will be the Panhandle-South Plains Chapter of the National Association of Social Workers.

The seminar will be April 25-26 at the Camelot Inn.

The workshop is open to anyone in social work or related occupations.

Mrs. Larry Murphy, teacher for the 3 and 4 year-olds, explained that the center serves a four-state area with a primary focus of training hearing impaired children to fit an oral society.

Mrs. Murphy explained to the group that the students are first

Pathfinders Set Mexican Fiesta

The Pathfinders Class of the United Methodist Church has scheduled a Mexican fiesta dinner to be held Friday evening, April 19, between 5 and 8 p.m. with tickets being sold at $1.75 for adults and $1 for children under 12.

taught sound discrimination and concepts of language and are then given speech training. A separate pathology program is conducted for those with speech impairments.

The school begins with training students from the age of 4 months through adult life and covers deaf, blind and oral deaf, according to Mrs. Murphy. She emphasized that early detection and parent training is a most important factor and stated that with improving teaching facilities there is a possibility that the next 10-15 years will evolve into less manual communication among the deaf.

A brief business session was held and the club voted to make a contribution to the advisory committee on campus enhancement for Operation Facelift.

Hostesses for the club meeting were Mrs. Nolan Henson, Carol Womack, Peggy Smallwood, and Wynema Brotherton.

Easter Celebrations Planned By Canyon Churches

Churches in Canyon plan to celebrate Easter during the week and at their regular Sunday morning worship services with hymns and sermon topics centered around the resurrection theme.

St. Ann's Catholic Church will have activities during the week as they celebrate Easter. This was used as a teaching device to point out what Jesus and His disciples did during the last supper. This was followed by a fellowship supper.

On Thursday evening at 8 p.m.

Mass of the Lord's Supper and Mandatum will be observed. Also, all children who have begun to take communion during the past year will make a first solemn Holy Communion. This will be followed by a vigil until midnight commemorating the Lord in the garden.

At 8 p.m. Good Friday, a Liturgy of the Lord's Death with scripture reading from the suffering Savior and reading from the gospels account of the passion will be conducted.

If you can't get PIONEER Brand 8311

here are some excellent alternative hybrids for High Plains farmers.

Pioneer Brand 8311, the "Golden Bronze Yield Leader," has been our most popular hybrid this year — so popular, in fact, that it may be in short supply in some areas. One reason is that the demand has been so great downstate where 8311's disease tolerance is so important. Fortunately, there are several other Pioneer Brand hybrids that are proven top performers on the High Plains. If you can't get 8311, ask your dealer about these.

PIONEER Brand 8417

This versatile yellow endosperm sorghum is a champion yielder in the medium-late maturity class, for irrigated or non-irrigated land. It has large open heads, uniform head height, strong stalks for easy threshing, good tolerance to smut and anthracnose.

PIONEER Brand 820

This top-notch full-season hybrid, is a consistently high yielder. Excellent drought resistance and standability plus good roots and stalks make it a good choice for irrigated or non-irrigated farming on the plains.

PIONEER Brand 828

One of the highest yielding sorghums you can plant, this full-season hybrid responds well to good management on good land with plenty of water. Plains growers like it because it holds its quality and threshes well even after an early freeze. It produces sturdy stalks with semi-compact heads of dark red grain.

PIONEER Brand 846

Famous for its versatility and adaptability, this medium maturity hybrid yields along with the full-season varieties. Resistant to smut, rust and MDM, its outstanding hybrid vigor and excellent drought resistance help it turn in consistently high yields even under stress.

Happy News New Mexico CowBelles Entertain Royally

By MARY NEAL HENRY
NEW MEXICO COWBELLES treated me royally. They are a most friendly group who support their state and catlemen wholeheartedly. They cover their entire state with Cow-Belle locals — a goal I hope Texas achieves this year.

JANE AND BOB Frost and their Robin and Michelle welcomed me to their home on Saturday evening. I almost got there before dark. Jane had drawn me a very good map — so even though I'd never visited the Frost's ranch, I readily found it. I told them on my arrival how really brave I felt. It doesn't take long to spend the night with the Bob Frosts. We were up and leaving before 5 a.m. for Albuquerque and the New Mexico Beef Fair.

JELLY DORRIS WENT along, too, so that she could bring nine-year-old Robin Frost back to San Jon on Sunday evening to attend school Monday morning.

ROBIN FROST DID win the Junior Division of the New Mexico State Beef Fair. Robin cooked and demonstrated "Great Gran's Beefy Burgers," a tasty, beefy dish. Sharon Black, also representing the Tucumcari area, won the Senior Division of the Beef Fair. It was an excellent show with about 22 participants, all finalists of the different areas of the state.

ON SUNDAY MORNING while the entries to the Beef Fair were getting ready, Mrs. Irene Hoyt, the National CowBelle President, and I visited Old Town in Albuquerque. We enjoyed little more than an hour's shopping and had lunch there. Mrs. Hoyt is from Kamas, Utah, and was unfamiliar with Mexican food, but she wanted to try it. I ordered for both of us and she insisted that she did enjoy it. Mrs. Hoyt is a pleasant, congenial person.

SUNDAY EVENING WE attended the Board of Directors meeting. They served a delicious meal. It was a most enlightening experience. As they read the minutes of the previous meeting, they reported that Texas had 10,000 members. Those who know me know that I seldom conceal my reactions and this was no exception. I told them (later, I wasn't about to correct their minutes) that they must have just gotten a little wild with their zeroes. They heard that Happy alone had a 100 members. (Girls, that is a true TEXAS TALE. They only doubled it!) They thought we might live up to those expectations this year. I thanked them for their confidence.

THE NEW MEXICO CowBelles already had their proclamation signed by the governor for Beef For Father's Day, too, but they had a picture and the whole publicity ready. Our Texas governor has, so far, been too busy to have his picture made with the Texas CowBelles presenting him a cut of beef for Father's Day. We met Governor and Mrs. Bruce King and enjoyed visiting with Mrs. King.

CHARLES BALL, EXECUTIVE secretary of The Texas Cattle Feeders and resident of Amarillo spoke to New Mexico Cattle Growers on Tuesday morning. He spoke on public relations. I wanted to hear it but I needed to remain in the Cow-Belle meeting.

THE NAPKINS WITH brands and names on them are a state project in New Mexico. They make only a few cents on their cookbooks. They use it as beef promotion. They buy National stationery to give to those in the hospital instead of sending flowers. . . nice idea, especially since it has a beef recipe in it.

THEY DO SUPPORT Boys Ranch in their state. If they ask CowBelles for anything, they get it. Or if they hear of a worthy boy who needs any type of assistance, financial or otherwise, they take care of the situation. Some locals give scholarships, one up to $250.

TUESDAY MORNING NEW Mexico CowBelles held a Continental Breakfast and business meeting. At noon, we enjoyed a luncheon and style show. Chamiza CowBelles (Truth or Consequences area) presented me a centerpiece of deadwood with a road runner atop (complete with feathers) and an ivy implanted. That afternoon, we attended the New Mexico Cattle Growers meeting. Governor Bruce King addressed the group. The governor said he probably wouldn't say a thing that 3/4 inch of rain wouldn't do more good. He was followed by a Dallas attorney, David A. Witts, who was an outstanding speaker. He not only made you listen, you were wondering what was going to happen next. He outlined what happened in the fuel industry and why and then did the same thing comparatively with the beef industry. (Some people actually think that we planned "all this." Surely not!)

MR. WITT WAS a hard man to follow, but Topper Thorpe did a fine job with his Cattle Fax. He warned the feeders that if they all held their stockers and feeders, the same thing would happen to them that happened to the fat cattle market during the boycott and again during the truckers' strike. And he didn't think that Americans who knew what good beef tasted like would go back to grass fattened cattle. I enjoyed Topper's thought provoking remarks.

LORENA JOHNSON, NEW Mexico CowBelle president, presented the CowBelle of the Year award to Mrs. Faye Plank of Clovis. Faye was chairman of their state IIC committee and had an impressive report.

FRED DAUGHERTY WAS honored as the 1974 New Mexico Cattleman of the Year at the evening banquet. He lives south of Clovis. One of his main interests is youth and their activities. We were able to meet and congratulate Mr. Daugherty.

TUESDAY MORNING BREAKFAST and local reports ended the convention. And I won a door prize, a big planter full of cactus deadwood and several type plants in a large white container. Janie Frost knew we'd never get all that stuff home. But Bob "babysat" with it under his feet all the way back to San Jon. And there aren't even any footprints in either of them. We had great fun.

WE HAD TRAVELED from

San Jon to Albuquerque with Mrs. Dorris. She returned on Sunday to San Jon with granddaughter, Robin Frost, and then on to Happy with the four-year-old granddaughter, Michelle. Robin stayed at Martha and Len Frost's home with paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Frost, in order to attend school while her parents were at the convention.

LARISSA FROST, YOUNG daughter of Martha and Len, stayed in Happy with maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Toles. Novalene and John visited Virgil Toles in Hereford and took Larissa home on Wednesday. Martha teaches English in San Jon and likes it very well.

MARGARET COLLINS OF San Jon asked to be remembered to Susie and Charlie Conatser. Margaret said that Susie and Charlie kind of adopted them while they were in Canyon in school. Margaret is very friendly and most interesting to visit with.

PRESIDENT OF WAGON Wheel CowBelles introduced herself to me at the Executive Board meeting on Sunday evening and her name was Pinnell. She was from Glen Rio. She was Mrs. Donald Pinnell. Small world!

I WASN'T THE only Texan there. I ran into Roberta Caviness of Hereford. In the elevator, a man read my badge and exclaimed, "I know Tom." He was Nolan Chandler of Amarillo. (Some medicine company or something). And just lots of those New Mexicans are transplanted Texans.

WHEN YOU ARE from Happy several people always ask, "Do you know Walter Graham?" Well, Happy is too small a place to answer in the negative; I can say that my daughter and his granddaughter were college roommates. This family loves Jan. She has been in our home many times. Mr. Stedman, an Albuquerque banker, had a stroke five months ago and is recovering very well and asked to be remembered to Mr. Graham as did Buddy Major, a cattleman who buys Happy Hereford bulls. His mother, Mrs. Major, told me that she was one who helped begin the New Mexico CowBelles.

DON LEE OF Alamogordo also said "hello." My PICTURE CAME out in the "Western Livestock Journal." It was taken at Dallas at the TSCRA Convention. Mr. Bassford was also at this convention and brought my attention to the picture. I'm on page 3.

MRS. BASSFORD TELLS me she was instrumental in beginning the Colorado CowBelles 33 years ago. Colorado CowBelles are older than National.

THIS MAY SEEM like quite a bit of CowBelle news, but that has taken most of my time this week. Tuesday we traveled to Coleman, Tex., and began a new local there. That makes 24 — eight organized this year.

WE RETURNED to San Jon with a young couple, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Blackburn, from Grady. Nancy Blackburn was the state treasurer. C.J. had a station wagon and it was loaded, including two planters and plants.

I BARELY GOT back to Happy in time to meet Tom and J.T. at the FFA annual Parent-Son Banquet last Tuesday. (FFA President, Kyle Todd, said that we were going to have to change that because FFA had been integrated this year. Happy now has a girl on its role). There were about 155 members and guests present for the occasion which featured BEEF.

KYLE TODD WELCOMED the group and Jinie LaRoe, FFA President, responded in behalf of the guests.

GUEST SPEAKER WAS Bobby Tucker, state FFA president and Baptist preacher from Mineola. Tuesday of last week was a very dry day and Bobby remarked in East Texas they had trouble keeping the kids down on the farm, but we seemed to have trouble keeping our farms down on the farms. Bobby used as his subject what FFA teaches to 448,000 throughout the USA, the symbols of each officer. The sentinel's symbol is the door. The door welcomes members and guests. Clapped hands are an emblem of friendship and present the idea of cooperation. The reporter's symbol is the flag and represents patriotism and all that it stands for. The treasurer's emblem is George Washington, who was not only first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts in his countrymen, but also a farmer and PROUD of it. The secretary's emblem is an ear of corn. The ear of corn is native of the United States and reaches every corner of America. It is grown in every country except Alaska. It represents that FFA is a national organization reaching everywhere. The vice-president's emblem is the plow, a symbol of labor and tillage of the soil. Dreams and work are combined to achieve and the importance of work is emphasized. The president's emblem is the rising sun, a token of a new era and the beginning of sight of that light. Bobby finished by describing the FFA emblem. The question was asked, "Is the sun rising? Or is it setting?" And concluded with this statement, "The future is in your hands."

KYLE TODD CROWNED the FFA Sweetheart, Debbie McCarty, and presented her a jacket, a necklace and red roses. He presented Peggy McGavock a corsage.

MARK NICHOLS AND Walter Stubblefield were given honorary chapter memberships. Walter Stubblefield was also introduced as the president of Area 1 FFA. Mrs. Stubblefield was present with her son.

THESE AWARDS WERE presented: The DeKalb award to Bobby Moudy by Tim McNeill, a senior FFA; the Star Green Hand to Eddie Joe Pearson by Kyle Todd; the First Year Farm Bureau award to Guy Walt by Shirley LaRoe; the Farmers Union award to Kyle Todd by John Culwell; the Agriculture Mechanics to Mike Watson by Bobby Moudy; the Scholarship Chapter Farmer to Kyle Todd and Lonnie Tackitt, who hold averages of 94.84 and 93.55 respectively, was given by Lee Moore; the Chapter Star Farmer to Robert Cole by Kyle Todd; Livestock Farming to Bobby Moudy by Greg Looney; Crop Farming to Andy Hand, Swine to Lonnie Tackitt and Beef to Kyle Todd by Ronnie Jackson; Sheep production award to Alan Fowler by Andy Hand; Leadership award to Kyle Todd by Tommy Tipps; and Outstanding Service award to A.J. McCarty by Lee Moore, the Agriculture teacher of Happy.

NEW OFFICERS FOR 1974-75 are president, Terry McDonald; vice-president, Richard SoRelle; secretary, Kyle Todd; treasurer, Keith Dietz; reporter, Mike Watson; and sentinel, Lonnie Tackitt.

HAPPY JAYCEES AND Happy Jaycee-Ettes gleaned more than $1100 for the Cancer Crusade last week. That group of people who came out and helped them do this are surely Happy's first and most civic minded people.

HAPPY JAYCEES LOST the ballgame to the KD JW Triple Players. But the comedy lasted from the opening whistle through the game to the final buzzer of the clock. Some outstanding plays were made, but we won't elaborate on these. Maybe the suspense will bring out more spectators if they do it again next year.

THOSE MERCHANTS WHO donated merchandise and those who bid the highest are to be commended. Billy Bible auctioned these items. Our sincere DOTTIE AND DICK Foster recently attended the Installation of the Amarillo Jaycees and Jaycee-Ettes. They attended a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Blackburn before the Installation Banquet.

THE WAYNE PEARSON family drove to Lake Meredith on Sunday afternoon.

HAPPY FHA OBSERVED FHA Week last week with a different project each day. Mrs. Karlene Moore is their Home Economics teacher.

THE MANTOOTHs ARE back in Canyon living at 1202 Creekmore Drive. Ricky Mantooth was a former Happy coach. Sammie and Ricky are both teaching at Canyon High School now. Sammie wrote in the hope that she could "pass the word" to many who would enjoy reading an article published in the March, 1974, issue of the "Texas Coach." Carroll Killingsworth wrote this article, a narrative, after he accompanied Ricky and his 1967 Happy Cowboys to a district football game. The article mentions the players by name and relates the aftermath of a crucial loss for the Cowboys. Carroll gave the Mantooths a copy at the time and they in turn gave a copy to each of the boys for their graduation that year. A big "Thank You" to the Mantooths for drawing our attention to this article published in the March, 1974 issue of "Texas Coach," a subscription for all members of the Texas High School Coaches Association. The boys will enjoy knowing this and parents will enjoy seeing the story in print. For those of you who are wondering who the 1967 Happy Cowboys were: Randy Johnson, Bill Vernon, Richard Todd, Lloyd Rahlfs, Bob Robinson, Dwaine Grantham, Jackie Schiller, Curtis Fowler, Dean Bryan, Mark Moudy, Zeke Frost, Neil McCarty, Terry Wright, Steve Vernon, Bob Lee, Ricky McPherson, Don Maynard, Alvin Moudy, Jesse Ramos, Joe Bill Dempsey, Charles House, Ronnie Cheek, Luther McDaniel, Greg Pearson and Joe Bob Via.

FOSTER HARMAN IS the new mayor of Happy. City commissioners are Bob Pulsipher and Reggie Johnson. It was a close race with Bob Pulsipher receiving 132 votes; Reggie Johnson, 128 votes; and Jackie Pyle, 120 votes.

GEORGE WHITE AND Tom Henry were the school trustees elected. Happy School Board met on Monday evening to elect officers for the coming year. Those elected were president, Burl Sims; vice president, O.H. Rahlfs; and secretary, Fay Hand. Two hundred seventy-eight voted in this year's school board election.

HAPPY RAINBOW GIRLS observed their anniversary by attending church in a body — this year at Wayside. About 25 girls attended along with members of the advisory board and several parents. The church prepared dinner on the grounds for them and everyone enjoyed themselves. Connie Hand is Worthy Advisor of the Happy Rainbow Assembly.

SUNDAY CLIMAXED THE revival of the First Baptist Church. Friday night, the emphasis was on the junior department and everyone enjoyed homemade ice cream in Fellowship Hall after the services. Several children were recognized for memory work and visitation. Paul Heil entertained the group with a magic trick before refreshments. This was the funniest I've ever seen. For your next show (comedy, not magic) you might consider him. (I'm teasing, again, of course. I have to remember that everyone that reads this doesn't know me).

SATURDAY EVENING AFTER services a group of adults and the pastors traveled to Canyon to the Pizza Hut with the intermediate age classes. We enjoyed it for a while and then heartburn set in — not because of the pizza, but because of the amount of pizza. It was delicious.

THE EVANGELIST, DR. Frankie Rainey, and the singer, Brother Larry Rainey, were brothers. They are from Ft. Worth and Dallas. But they say that they feel they see each other less than they ever have even though they live so close. They enjoyed being together and we enjoyed them. Royce and Bill Vernon opened their home to this evangelistic team and made their stay even more enjoyable.

ZEKE FROST AND Joan Noble were recently married in San Jon, N.M. in the Bob Frost home. Zeke (hometown boy) is the son of the Jack Frosts. Joan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Noble of Tulia. (Really of the Union-Hill area. I met her mother at the recent H.D. Club I visited at Judy Thompson's home. She doesn't live over eight miles from me).

RUBY AND FORREST Vise recently traveled to Durant, Okla. and visited Irene Uealding. They also attended the wedding of Shelley Taylor. They enjoyed breakfast in the Amarillo Club and later attended the reception at the Taylor home in Canyon in the evening.

ANDREA VISE, THIRD daughter of Patricia and Orrell Vise, was baptized on Sunday evening into the First Baptist Church in Canyon. Grandparents, Ruby and Forrest Vise, attended the service.

THE DISTRICT TRACK Meet in Lubbock next week will see four Happy Cowboys participating. Tim McNeill will compete in the 120 high hurdles, Greg Looney in the 440-yard dash, Tommy Tipps in the 330 intermediate hurdles and Andy Hand in the shot put. Coaches Weeks and Criswell will be with them. Good luck, Cowboys!

ANDY HAND WON first in the stock car class at Amarillo Dragway last Sunday. He has a pretty trophy to show for it.

ACIE DELL AND Copus Boyd vacationed two weeks at Lake LBJ and Kingsland. They fished and toured sights of the area. . . and rested. They are home again.

MR. AND MRS. Fred Hall (my neighbors) have a son stationed in Germany who was recently named soldier of the quarter for the 38th Personnel and Administration Battalion. Army Specialist Four Perry G. SEVERAL TRI-STATE HIGH School Rodeo participants traveled to Claude during the weekend.

OTHELLA McGEHEE AND I went to Amarillo on Thursday morning to advertise the coming mid-year meeting of Texas CowBelles at San Antonio on April 22 and 23rd. We first stopped at KGNC radio and made a tape with Bill Coleman. We visited briefly with Royce Bodiford and Loyd Senn and Mr. Kenderd. Then we went to High Plains Baptist Hospital and visited Willie Butler. (Willie looked great and came home on Friday). Then we went to Channel 10 and talked with Ron Slover and Mike Benton. We were on Channel 10

News "live." Enjoyed meeting those two.

ROSS DUFF WAS hospitalized in Canyon with pneumonia.

MELTON McGEHEE SPENT the weekend in the Canyon hospital, but he and Othella are in Houston at this writing. They took their time driving down.

PEARL MILLER IS home since last Friday from the Canyon hospital.

FRANCES HODGES HAS had recent surgery at St. Anthony's hospital in Amarillo.

KEN HENRY WON the NIRA Rodeo at San Angelo — first in bull riding, that is. He won a sterling silver and gold belt buckle that he is happily displaying on his belt. He came home "walking on air."

See ya! Mary Neal

Number One Netter For WT Capable Of Big Win In MVC

Bill Marsh is a doubles player who is capable of winning big in singles.

West Texas State University's Buffalo tennis team plays many of the nation's better collegiate teams and Marsh is the man who faces the best.

The senior from Arkansas City, Kan., is playing the number one position for the second straight year on coach David Kent's Buffalo team.

As a junior Marsh won 13 and lost 10 for a Buffalo team which compiled a 17-6 won-lost record and won the Missouri Valley Conference Championship. In the MVC tournament he downed Danny Haddox of North Texas and Phil Chamberlain of Memphis State before losing in the finals of number one singles to Bill Griffith of Tulsa.

"Bill's two big wins in the MVC tournament set the stage for us to win the championship," said Kent. "Bill is capable of the big win and that is why he's playing number one."

Marsh has compiled an 8-6 record this spring for the Buffaloes, who have a 12-2 season mark. He is teaming with freshman Steve Johnson in doubles and they have a 10-3 record.

The Buffaloes travelled south yesterday to meet Rice in Houston tomorrow and Texas A&M at College Station Wednesday. They play at Oklahoma City in the Oklahoma City University Tournament April 11-13.

Marsh's doubles ability started at Arkansas City High School when he teamed with three different partners to reach the state high school finals three straight years.

"In big tournaments we didn't play in both doubles and singles," said Marsh. "I played doubles in those events, so I naturally became a better doubles player."

At Cowley County Junior College in Arkansas City, he reached the national junior college tournament two straight years. He won regional in both doubles and singles each year and placed third in singles his sophomore year at the national tourney.

"Doubles and singles are two completely different games," said Marsh. "Doubles is service, volley and service return. It takes less finesse to play doubles than it does to play singles. Doubles are less controlled and are quicker."

In his two years at West Texas, Marsh has had a standout pair of doubles partners. He teamed with Mike Bolton to reach the finals of the number one doubles division at the Missouri Valley Conference meet last spring. He is playing with Johnson, a freshman from Reno, Nev., this year.

"Mike was stronger physically than Steve is right now," said Marsh. "Mike and I made many of the same type of power shots. Steve is more accurate in Officer Election Friday For Club

The Palo Duro Mother-in-Law Club will meet Friday afternoon at three in the home of Mrs. Leonard Winters for an election and installation of officers.

Mrs. Clark McClendon will be co-hostess and members will answer roll call with "what I have planted."

Famous Dancer Due Here On April 18 For Recital

Jose Greco, internationally famous master of the classical Spanish dance, will be presented in a lecture-demonstration-recital at Canyon High School on April 18 at 8 p.m.

The program is sponsored by West Texas State University in collaboration with the National Endowment for the Arts.

Greco will explore with his audience the character and history of the Spanish people as it relates to the feeling, grace and beauty of Spanish dance and music.

With the assistance of Nana Lorca and her Flamenco Dance Theatre, Greco will discuss and then demonstrate the various techniques and characteristics of the regional dances. Among the regions explored will be Aragon, Basque, Valencia, Castile and Andalusia.

Mr. Greco's maestro at the piano and guitar will express the full beauty of the Spanish music.

Jose Greco was born of Spanish-Italian parents in the mountains of Northern Italy. He showed great enthusiasm for the Spanish dance at an early age, and was trained in Spain by experts.

The immortal Ardentinita soon noticed him and engaged him as her partner. Following her death, he danced as the partner of her famous sister Pilar Lopez.

Later, Greco organized his own troop, which has since been enthusiastically received worldwide. He has made numerous appearances on television and has been seen in two motion pictures.

Nana Lorca, of Lorca, Spain, is a graduate of the Royal Conservatory of Music and Declamation in Madrid. She has appeared as soloist with the Pilar Lopez Company and now co-stars with Mr. Greco.

The combined troop of the two star dancers brings new luster to the Spanish Dance.

Tickets for the presentation may be obtained through the West Texas State University Activities Center. WT students may pick up tickets free with their IDs. The general public may purchase tickets at $2.00 for adults or $1.00 for students.

Bond Program Set By United Methodist Church

Following morning worship services April 21, the United Methodist Church of Canyon will launch a program to sell bonds amounting to $450,000. Proceeds from the sale will be used to help the construction of a new sanctuary, offices, classrooms, library, choir room and church parlor.

These bonds will be first mortgage, eight per cent coupon or compound interest bonds and will be issued through the Ambassador Co., Inc. The bonds range in units of $100 to $1,000 for over a period of five to 14 years.

Bonds will be offered to the church membership and the general public for three weeks following the April 21 kick-off date. According to Dr. Hubert Thomkins, member of the steering committee, these bonds are highly recommended as a secure investment.

Paying agency for the bonds will be the First National Bank of Canyon. Both First National Bank and West Texas State Bank will have plans to help people buy bonds on the installment plan.

An intensive stewardship and visitation program is planned for the membership during the campaign. A telephone and fellowship committee will aid in the activities.

A poster contest concerning the bond sale will be staged within the fourth, fifth and sixth grade Sunday School classes. The posters will be displayed throughout the church building. Prizes will be offered for the best poster for both boys and girls.

Mrs. George Bulman is chairperson of the steering committee. Sales directors for the steering committee are Dr. Myron Dees, Dr. Paige Carruth and Dr. Dudley Moore. Other members of the committee are Dr. Thomkins, Eddy Holcomb, Mrs. Jeff Gunter and Dr. Willis Harrison.

The Rev. Bill Burton, regional director for Ambassador financing is the promotional director for this campaign. Home offices of the Ambassador Co., Inc. are in Nashville, Tenn.
